

CALL FOR SCORES AND PERFORMER-COMPOSERS

The Hudson Heights Community Music Program is seeking composer-performers to be Composers-in-Residence for its Fall-Winter 2016 session, which takes place in Upper Manhattan. The program welcomes those who want to increase their musical proficiency on their primary or secondary instrument, while creating, workshopping, performing and learning chamber music within an ensemble.

The Hudson Heights Community Music Program (HHCMP) is a Chamber Music Studio with a mission of bringing people together through the art of ensemble interaction. The 2016 program runs from September 27th to December 15th. Intermediate to Advanced levels of performance and composition are welcome to enroll. Your level of play, however, will likely be the same level of your assigned ensemble group (i.e. all compositions must be tailored to the level of play within your ensemble). There is no age limit. Ensembles (with their resident composer) receive coachings with flutist-composer Valerie Coleman of the Grammy nominated Imani Winds, perform in masterclasses with notable artists and participate in a recital. Composers also receive mentorship by Coleman throughout the session. The program takes place bi-monthly at Fort Washington Church, located at 729 W. 181st Street in New York City.

COMPOSERS-IN-RESIDENCE: enrollment ends September 27th, 2016. There are up to 8 spaces available and are on a first come, first served basis.

CALL FOR SCORES & PARTS: The program will accept submissions until October 15th, 2016. HHCMP enrolled composers will receive priority consideration for programming.

Instrumentation is 2-5 players, in any combination of winds, strings or piano, not to exceed 7 minutes duration. The entire set of score and parts must be provided and a recording of any kind is preferred. Selected scores will be programmed and performed at the HHCMP Concert on December 15th at 7pm.

If you are interested in learning more about the program, come to the Open House on Wednesday, September 21st from 5-7pm at Fort Washington Collegiate Church, 729 W. 181st Street, or Visit www.gwbmusic.com.
